

Global history and governance
PhD Courses and Workshops
2023-2024

First Term
(November 2023—February 2024)

Courses

- Suzanne Levin (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), History of Natural Rights, 12th-18th Centuries (2, 3, 8, 15, 22, 29 November, 6, 13, 19 December)
- Thaïs Gendry (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), Africa and Africans in Global History (6, 13, 20, 27 November, 4, 7, 11, 18 December)
- Daniela Luigia Caglioti (University of Naples, Federico II), Citizenship in wartime. Subjects, foreigners, enemy aliens and stateless people from the French Revolution to WWII (3, 9, 16, 27 November, 1, 7, 15, 18 December, 28, 29 February)
- Mauro Bussani (Università degli Studi di Trieste), Marta Infantino (Università degli Studi di Trieste), Introduction to Global Law (9, 10, 23, 23, 30 November, 1, 14, 15 December, 22, 23 February)

Research Workshops

- Norma Naimark (Stanford University), The Facets of Genocide (13 November)
- Sara Panata (CNRS, University of Bordeaux), The International History of West African Suffrage Movements (1920-1970) (21 November)
- Daniel Foliard (University of Paris/Paris Diderot), (Un)framings: Photographic Appropriations e Gravitational lenses and dark matter: the Colonial Visual Archive and its effect on African histories of photography (12 January)
- Nouredine Amara (Scuola Normale Superiore), Blurred Empires: Algerian migrants, Belonging to the State, and Forged Documents in the Mediterranean Nineteenth Century Mediterranean (16 January)
- Ettore Costa (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), The Radiant Future of Socialism: Nuclear Power and Science for the Swedish and Italian Left in 1955 (30 January)

- Giacomo Canepa (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), Demographic change and social protection reforms, 1960s-1990s (6 February)
- Alessandro Stanziani (EHESS), What is a source? What is a data? A transnational history 18th century to nowadays (13 February)
- Aymeric Xu (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), Discovering and Disciplining Religion in Manchuria and Taiwan under Japanese Rule (20 February)
- Liat Kozma (Hebrew University of Jerusalem), Leora Blisky (Tel Aviv University), Between a legal and social history of plunder in Palestine-Israel in 1948-49 (23 February)

Historical research and the problem of sources

- Olindo De Napoli (University of Naples, Federico II), Critique of the sources: general remarks (9, 23 November)
- Thaïs Gendry (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), Judicial Colonial Sources: State Power, Racism and the Writing of History (7 December)
- Riccardo Cucciolla (University of Naples, L'Orientale), Experiences and practices in Soviet Archives (18 January)
- Aymeric Xu (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), From Political Manipulation to Conceptual Importation: Same Sources, Different Histories in Modern China (25 January)
- David Foliard (CNRS - Laboratoire de Recherche sur les Cultures Anglophones), Photography as power: force and counterforce (13 February)
- Ana Belem Fernández Castro (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), The use of legal sources for historical research (28 February)

Soft Skills

- Thaïs Gendry (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), Researching a topic and building a bibliography (19 November)
- Giacomo Canepa (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), Building and Managing a bibliography (23, 30 November)
- Diego Carnevale (University of Naples, Federico II), Domenico Cecere (University of Naples, Federico II), How to write a successful ERC/Marie Curie project (27 February)

Global history and governance
Second Term
(March—November 2024)

Courses

- Aymeric Xu (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), Christianity in East Asia (12, 19, 26 March, 10, 17, 23, 30 April, 8 May)
- Nourredine Amara (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), Migrations, Empires, and Nationality in the Nineteenth-Century Mediterranean (13, 20, 27 March, 17, 24 April, 8, 15, 22 May)
- Daniel-Joseph MacArthur-Seal (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), The global opium trade in the age of prohibition, 1909-2009 (13, 27 March, 10, 18, 24 April, 8, 15 May)
- Giacinto Della Cananea (Bocconi University), Old and new rights before global courts (11, 18, 25 March, 8, 15, 22, 29 April, 6, 15 May)
- Ettore Costa (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), Global agents within and without global institutions: internationalism as an ideal and a practice in the twentieth century (11, 18 March, 8, 19, 22, 29 April, 7, 20 May)

Research Workshops

- Daniel-Joseph MacArthur-Seal (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), Customs officers, merchants and seamen: opium smuggling networks and their suppression in the interwar Mediterranean (12 March)
- Maria Bossaert (Université Clermont Auvergne), Italian Orientalism: a social and political history (1860-1912) (19 March)
- Joseph Viscomi (Birkbeck College, University of London), Departures: Rethinking the History of Mediterranean Migrations (26 March)
- Suzanne Levin (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), The Popular Society of Lorient: A Global Actor in Local Revolutionary Politics? (10 April)
- M'hamed Oualdi (Sciences Po, Paris), North African captives in Europe (1750s-1810). Slavery in Literacy in the Mediterranean (16 April)

- Niccolò Pianciola (University of Padua), Opium trade and migration in Central and East Asian Borderlands (24 April)
- Airton Ribeiro (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), Circulation and Acquisition of Normative Knowledge in the Portuguese Empire (7 May)
- Alexander M. Semyonov (Amherst College), Rethinking empire and diversity in the history of the Russian Empire (20 May)
- Denis Kozlov (Dalhousie University), Soviet Jewish Transit Migration via Italy during the 1970s and 1980s (21 May)
- Mark Roseman (Indiana University), On the problem of ordinariness. Efforts at understanding the perpetrators of genocide (23 May)
- Thaïs Gendry (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), Criminal justice in action (3 June)
- Andreas Eckert (Humboldt Universität, Berlin), Work, non-work, some kind work. What is Labour History about (5 June)

Multiday Workshops

- Roberto Zaugg (University of Zurich), Material Culture, Gift-giving and Intercultural Relations: At the Intersections of Microhistory and Anthropology (4, 5 April)
- Stefan Berger (Ruhr University Bochum), Historiography, nationalism and national identity (15, 16, 17 April)
- Fernando Guirao (Università Pompeo Fabra Barcellona), Rethinking Human Rights in European Integration (3, 4, 5 June)

Historical research and the problem of sources

- Ettore Costa (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), The trees and the forest: theoretical and practical problems of quantitative text analysis for historical sources (7 March)
- Suzanne Levine (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), Sources for Political History: the Example of the French Revolution (11 April)
- Laura Fiore (University of Naples, Federico II), Historical sources for the study of the institutions (18 April)

Soft Skills

- Federico Martellozzo (University of Florence), Geographic Information System (GIS) (4, 5, 6 June)
- Vy Cao (Aix-Marseille Université), Heurist and Application in Historical Research (6, 7 June)