MUR No. 1396 on September 18, 2024:

- n. 1 post-doctoral research contract in the scientific-disciplinary area: GIUR-01/A Private Law; GIUR-06/A Public Administrative Law

Project Description: the project “Measures to Address Psychological and Emotional Distress in the Student Population: From Prevention to the Reduction of Adaptive Impairment” aims to continue the work started with the “AppBenessere” project (PROBEN_0000005), funded under the PRO-BEN 2023 call. This project focuses on enhancing the regional network between university institutions and some AFAM institutions in Campania. It is designed to adapt to all levels of university education (Bachelor’s, Master’s, and Ph.D.) and continues the objectives and core principles established in the previous academic year. The focus is on addressing risk factors, health-risk behaviors, and conditions of psychological and emotional distress that are correlated with dependency conditions (e.g., substance abuse, gambling, internet addiction). The project also aims to identify protective factors and develop accessible pathways for promoting the well-being of the university community, fostering active lifestyles that enhance life skills and resilience.
